

New multi purpose hall for St. Barbs

Integralign Pty Ltd, a relatively new company in Roxby Downs, is moving forward and winning major contract projects around town.

Integralign has already been assisting Candetti in the major construction of the new Police Complex on Burgoyne Street, and now has scored a major project in the building of a new multipurpose hall at St Barbara's Parish School.

The new hall, which will serve as a space for indoor sports, school assemblies and an area of protection against the elements, and as we all know, come down in force on Roxby at times.

Tony Wilkinson, Managing Director of Integralign is happy to be assisting Candetti and St Barbara's in this project.

"We are assisting Candetti with the major construction of the multi purpose hall in site establishment, major earthworks, foundations, ground slab and partial construction of the hall itself.

"We started erecting the fencing yesterday, (June 16) so we'll be there for the next two months. We expect to have the project completed by Christmas.

"Candetti are in the process of sorting out local contractors to finish the project at the present time.

"Other disciplines within the project will be electrical, roofing, cladding, joinery, landscaping.

"GHD did the design for the project. The existing area, looking at what they've already got, they actually haven't got a multi purpose indoor hall, so it's an excellent add to enhance the children's sports activities," Mr Wilkinson said.

The project is a part of the Australian Government's Nation Building Project Economic Stimulus Plan. The plan includes $16.2 billion over three years for the "Building the Education Revolution" program, which will fund the building and rebuilding of primary and secondary school infrastructure and maintenance in Australia's schools, including combined schools and special schools.

The program will also provide funding to build 537 new science laboratories and language learning centres in secondary schools.

"We're looking into the RDAS, for a sporting hall there, a much larger one than the one at St Barbara's. Then there's a complete internal refurbish and fit out of the Woomera School as well, which we're doing in conjunction with Candetti," said Mr Wilkinson.

"We do a lot of joint ventures with Bianco Constructions, who are obviously major suppliers and Access Civil, who are working with us in doing the major civil engineering, TLT scaffolding and RTA safety and rescue.

"We're still managing the police complex project for Candetti. That's going well, we've still got to do all the ground works, the road curbing, the landscaping and the internal joinery fit out we'll be carrying out as well," he said.
